No 2,8 24—Eleventh Year. BUENOS AYRES, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1871. Circulation, 3000.

MAUA BANK,

101—103 CALLE CANGALLO

The Offices of this Bank having been removed to the above spacious building, in order to suit the increasing flow of business, the public is informed that the following transactions are carried on in currency and specie in this Bank:—

First—Bills and obligations with good signatures are discounted on conventional terms.

Second—Money is advanced on mercantile and other securities approved of by the Manager.

Third—Accounts-current are opened with Merchants or other parties who may prefer depositing endorsed and transferable securities, against which they may draw up to an amount previously conferred under conditions established for such class of operations.

Fourth—Money is received in account current bearing interest from day of deposit, which is accumulated in favor of the parties every three months, the depositors being allowed to retire at any time, by means of cheques, part or the full amount at their wish, save when the quantity exceeds three hundred doubloons or one hundred thousand dollars currency in which case forty-eight hours previous notice is required to begiven to the Treasury of the Bank.

Fifth—Bills or letters of credit are drawn and taken on Montevideo, Rosario, Sta Fé, Salto Oriental, Paysandu, Rio Janeiro, and other places in the Brasils, England and France, as also on other places, of which notice will be given hereafter.

Finally, the Bank undertakes and executes all legitimate transactions within the orbit of banking operations.

The establishment is always open from 10 a.m till 3 p.m.

Mixtura para Tercianas DE JAYNE,

A CERTAIN AND EFFECTUAL REMEDY

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent and Remittent Fevers, &c.

This class of diseases, so common in all part of the world, and specially prevalent in malarious districts and vicinage of water courses, are almost invariably accompanied by more or less derangement of the liver, and frequently by a defective action of the digestive organs.

The mere breaking of the Chill is but a step towards completing a radical cure. The various organs of the body, especially the stomach and liver, must be brought to a healthy and vigorous condition before a permanent cure can be established, and this fact has been specially kept in view by Dr. Jayne in his treatment of these complaints. The use of Jayne's Ague Mixture in conjunction with the Sanative Pills, as prescribed in the directions which accompany each bottle, will not only

Break up the Chills,

But restore the system more particularly the liver and stomach, to a sound condition, and so prevent a relapse of Fever and Ague, by thoroughly

Eradicating the Disease,

And the best evidence of this is the invariable success which has always followed the administration of these remedies, as attested by the certificates published annually in Dr. Jayne's Almanac, and the wide-spread popularity of the Ague Mixture in those districts of the United States, where the diseases, for which it is adapted, most prevail.

All Dr. D. Jayne's Family Medicines are prepared only at 242 Chestnut-street, Philadelphia, and are sold by Druggists everywhere.

NOTICE TO SHIPOWNERS AND SHIPMASTERS.

The Marine Railway at Colonia being in working order, public attention is called to the following Tariff of Charges, a deduction of 25 per cent. having been made since the 1st of July, 1871:—

Sailing Vessels and Steamers of over one hundred [100] tons, English or American builder's measurement, will pay a rate of seventy-five (0.75) cents per ton gold, for being taken up. Each nominal horse power of engine in steamers, will be charged for as an additionalton of measurement.

Sailing Vessels or Steamers, whose entire registered tonnage and horse power of engine does not equal one hundred (100) tons, will pay the rate of one hundred [100] tons.

All cargo will pay one dollar, twelve and a-half (12½) cents in gold, per ton, for being taken up, and the regular rates for laying on.

For laying on the Rail way, from the hour the Vessel or Steamer is properly up, for each twenty-four (24) hours, fifty-six and a-quarter (56¼) cents. per ton, in gold, and any twenty-four (24) hours entered upon will be charged as a full day.

Vessels and Steamers must be provided with sufficient crew and lines while being moved into or out of the cradle.

Wrecked Vessels or Steamers, whose bottoms are broken, will not be taken at the regular rates, but must make an especial agreement with the Company's Agent at Colonia.

No charge will be made while laying on, for Sundays or stormy days, when no work can be done below the load line of the Vessel or steamer.

Railway Bills must be cashed, or acceptably provided for, before the Vessel or Steamer will be launched, and any detention of the Railway for the settlement of Bills will be charged at full rates.

A fine Machine Shop, Blacksmith Shop, and Brass Foundry connected with the Establishment. Machinists, Boiler-makers, and Shipcarpenters always on hand; and Shipowners will find it to their advantage to have all their work contracted for at the Dock.

The Company have immense Barracas ready for the storage of cargoes, with Wharves, Launches, &c.

THE TRUE THEORY OF PURGATION,

Applied to the Liver, Kidneys, Skin, Stomach, and Bowels.

DR. RADWAY'S
Perfect
PURGATIVE PILLS,

Perfectly tasteless—Elegantly Coated.

'Materia Medica' contains, in its repertoire, many purgative and cathartic agents that, for ordinary purposes, opens the bowels, and through what is called a 'peristaltic' movement, purges from the alimentory canal the feces, and this is all. Such agents, for the purpose of cure, or removal of any settled cure, are perfectly useless.

Dr. Radway has completed one of the most essential discoveries in medical chemistry—in the combination of vegetable substances, for the purpose of a Purgative, Aperiant, Counter-Irritant, Alterative Pill, that can be taken or administered with the absolute certainty of securing thorough expulsion of all decayed and decomposing element of the human body, and also safe to take in the most malignant of Eruptive Fevers. In cases where the mucuous membranes of the internal viscera are suffering from Ulceration, Inflammation, or from

Supply the only Vegetable substitute for CALOMEL OR MERCURA:

In Radway's Pills you have one medicine that will secure quicker, more thorough and better results than will be given in from three or more different prescriptions of the medical practitioner As a proof of this—You are seized with a bilious attack! Doctor prescribes blue pills or calomel. Next, come drastic aloetic pill or powders, to work off the effects of the blue pills this prostrates you, and a tonic is next given, to a gentle aperiant, whereas one dose of Radway's Pills will do all the work that the three or more prescriptions are given for, without running any risk from mecurialising or salivating the system.

Radway's Pills.

In Radway's Pills the true principle of purgation is secured—not alone to the office of dismissing the faeces and excrements from the bowels, but these rumors that are checked or stopped in their passage through the Skin, Kidneys, Lungs, and all excreting and secerting functions; for if these excrementatious secretions belonging to the skin, liver, lungs, kidneys, are interrupted in their escape, they become products of decay and decomposition, and must be purged from the living body through their proper channels; hence the purgative qualities of Radway's Pills extend to the secretions of the Skin, Kidneys, Diver, &c.; whereas not one of the advertised Pills claim to act beyond the bowels.

How to take Radway's Pills.

Their daily use.

In doses of one or two pills, by all persons of a full habit of body, subject to giddiness, rush of blood to the head, palpitation of the heart, and all those subject to fits, will not only keep the blood from becoming congested or clogged up in the blood vessels, but will equalise its circulation, and prevent sudden attacks of apoplexy, disease of the heart, congestion. Persons who will take one of these Pills every day will not suffer from Head-aches, Dizziness, Hysterics, Fainting Spells, Pains around the Heart, and a hundred other disagreeable symptoms.

DYSPEPSIA

One of Radway's Pills, two or three hours before dinner, taken daily, will keep the system free from Dyspepsia, Constipation, Costiveness, &c. &c.

Bear in Mind,

Radway's Pills are the only purgative that will secure an alterative, diuretic, sudorific, aperiant, and tonic influence.

THE INDIAN FRONTIERS.

Publicattention is for a moment called away from the Cordoba Exhibition and the President's triumphal journey to the disheartening news that reaches us from all points of the frontier. Every day brings word of some fresh invasion; cattle carried off, women or children made captive, some Indians slain by our outposts, and the pursuit abandoned for want of horses. It would be well indeed if the estancieros could look on with the same imperturbable philosophy as the authorities, and shrug their shoulders as if the evil were incurable. It matters little whether the chief blame is to be laid at the door of the War-office, or with the Provincial Government, or subordinate officials. The broad fact is undeniable, that the condition of the frontiers is not what it ought to be.

The Sociedad Rural, after dreadful southern invasions last year, took up the matter vigorously, but found that the promises and good intentions of the National and Provincial Governments in the end amounted to nothing. One tangible measure was apparently obtained, an order from the National Government to buy 2,000 horses for the south frontier; up to present, however, only 20 or 30 of these animals have arrived. Meantime in Fort Tres Arroyos we hear of 200 National Guards with 14 firelocks among them, and the fides Punica shewn to the Indians is hardly calculated to inspire confidence; some of the tribes have 15 months rations owing to them, others 9 months, and so on. These are matters unpleasant to talk about, and we would not for the world that people in Europe heard of our shortcomings in this way. It is necessary nevertheless, that there should be no mystery about such things in Buenos Ayres, and the Sociedad Rural has done good service by the subjoined manifesto, which bears the signatures of 70 leading estancieros.

Rural Society, B. Ayres
Oct. 2nd 1871.

The Chairman. D. Miguel Azcuenaga, explained the object of the meeting as follows—

The deputation of the Society waited on Governor Castro and the B. Ayrean members of Congress, pursuant to the resolutions at last meeting. The Governor declared himself most ready to further the ends in view; and the B. Ayrean deputies 'interpellated' the Minister of War in Congress, declaring that what the estancieros sought was not to give the National Government trouble, but to obtain that protection to which the law entitled them; that at present the southern frontiers were without horses or arms to repel an invasion, that 15 months rations were due to Calfacurá's tribe, 9 month to Catriel's &c., as could be proved by neigbors and witnesses. The Minister of War contradicted the statements.

We are, therefore, compelled to give the following explanations.

1st. The want of arms has been so great that only recently the War-minister sent some to Blanca Grande, and at Tres Arroyos there were 200 Nat. Guatds expecting an invasion with only 24 firelocks that Comandante Jurado had sent them from Tandil.

2ndly. As regards horses, there were none on the south frontier, as appears from Gen. Rivas's note, and of the 2.000 ordered by the National Government only 20 or 30 have been received.

3rdly. The Indians of Calfucurá have received no rations since June 1870, or those of Catriel since December, although their good behaviour has been exemplary.

4thly. It is notorious that the Nat. Guards are never paid, and when their period of service expires they are turned loose on foot, to reach their homes as best they can.

"It is hereby resolved that we offer Governor Castro the support of the Province to get up an expedition and drive the Indians beyond the Rio Negro.

"It is further resolved that we publish this meeting in the papers. Here follow the names of Azcuenaga, Martinez, Cobo, Crisol, Diaz Velez, Leloir, Insiarte, Acosta, Iraola, Jurado, Newton, Paz, Elizalde, Lynch, Treers, Colman, Vaschetti, Roldan &c.

On the 4th inst. a note was sent to Governor Castro to the above effect, shewing the lamentable state of the frontier, the obstinacy of the War-minister in shutting his eyes to the facts, and urging His Excellency to undertake an expedition similar to that of Rosas, to drive the Indians south of Rio Negro, and make that river the frontier.

Much as we sympathise with the estancieros we cannot but hope that if any such expedition be undertaken the Indians may give them a practical lesson of common honesty that they are sadly in need of. The Indians are the real, rightful owners of the soil, just as they were in North America and it behooves Governor Castro and his countrymen to take example from the Great Republic. Not an inch of ground in the United States has been taken from the Indian oborigenes without first paying them the fair value of it.

Instead of the proposed petition we would suggest that the Rural Society present Governor Castro with a copy of that impressive picture which represents Willan Penn buying land from the Indians whereon to found the State now called Pennsylvania.

In vain will Government try to protect the frontiers, as long as the present dishonest system is pursued; to make treaties with Indians, keep back the supplies 15 months, rob them of their territory by surprise, kill their women and children as vermin, and call this Christianity and civilization.

By all means let the frontier be advanced to the Rio Negro, but first pay the Indians the fair value of the land, make good to them the arrears of rations, and prevent the wholesale extortion to which some traders at present subject them. If we would inculcate honesty and fair dealing among the Indians we must set them the example, and whenever they attempt to violate a compact punish them severely. But if white men, Christians, enlightened legislators consider themselves at liberty to make treaties and break them at will, let us hope that there will be found a disciple of Bishop Las Casas to stand up for the poor Indian and proclaim the principles of right.

"Thrice is he armed that hath his quarrel just
"And he but naked though locked up in steel
"Whose conscience with injustice is corrupted."

ROMEO AND JULIET.

If the shade of the immortal William could revisit the earth, few things, we venture to assert, would surprise him more than to see his Romeo and Juliet performed as it was performed on Tuesday night at the Alegria Theatre; not that there is anything offensive to our prejudices or taste in the rendering of the old familiar Shakespearian utterances in a strange language, though many might fancy it well nigh impossible to do justice to them in any other than their original homely but forcible Saxon. To our thinking Romeo and Juliet is the one play of all others best suited to the Italian; the warmth of coloring, the depth of sentiment that pervade the whole piece are essentially Southern in their character; and while we confess that we could not tolerate Falstaff, Prince Hal, or King Lear in a foreign dress, Italy seems to us the natural home of the Montagues and Capulets, and Verona the place of all others where the fervid love-making of the unhappy Romeo becomes not only possible but most natural.

Unhappily, we had seen Shakespeare murdered too often on our own stage for us to look forward with any very keen anticipations of pleasure to the performance of Tuesday evening, and it was somewhat with the notion that we were fulfilling a solemn duty to the memory of the 'Divine Williams' that we walked up the steps of the Alegria, with our fatal note-book in hand, and the most critical expression of countenance that we could summon up for the occasion; but we had not the example of Balaam before our eyes, who came prepared to curse the Israelites, and ended by blessing them altogether, and our most fitting retribution is to have to record that we have never more heartily enjoyed any Shakespearian representation in our lives.

Sr. Rossi in his personal appearance is remarkably well fitted for the part of Romeo, and, with the exception of a slight tinge of mannerism which we could not help noticing, but which, we fear, is a charge from which few of our greatest actors are exempt, rendered the character in a manner worthy of the highest praise. His style a good deal resembles that of Fechter, but even Fechter—than whom we have seen few better Romeos—could not have thrown more fervour and passion into the part than did Sr. Rossi, who in certain scenes fairly carried the house away in a rapture of applause. In the balcony scene especially he was very good, and we noted with satisfaction his masterly acting in the scene when, stung by the death of Mercutio, he revenges the slaughter of his kinsman upon the unlucky Tybalt; his agony of mind seems not so much for the fallen man as for the barrier he had thus rashly raised between Juliet and himself.

In Sr. Rossi's whole reading of the part of Romeo there was nothing conventional, nothing stagy, and we must sincerely congratulate him on having achieved a great and well deserved success. 'Place aux dames,' however, and we are bound to express our opinion that the triumph of the evening rests with the Señorita Palladini. We should not be guilty of the smallest exaggeration if we said that we have never been more charmed with any impersonation in our lives than with her Juliet. Many actresses we could name start with far greater personal advantages than she does, which in the character of Juliet is half the battle won; Indeed, our first sentiment when the Señorita Palladini made her first entrance was one of almost disappointment, but we were honest enough to suspend our judgment, and reaped a rich reward for our reticence. Her embodiment of the part is to our thinking exactly that which Shakespeare himself must have had in his mind. The simple, childlike innocence and trustfulness with which she conceives her love for Romeo, the force of her passion when it has passed beyond her control, and her almost sublime confidence and contempt of danger in taking the potion which is to consign her to a living tomb, were all delineated with a perfection of appreciation and a truthfulness to nature which we could not sufficiently admire. To take isolated portions of her acting, or to discuss the details of the part would be as impossible as to dissect critically some grand piece of mosaic. Her acting must be taken as a whole, or as some fine web of sentiment of which the meshes are so interwoven as to be impossible of separation.

The balcony scene was fresh and natural; her impassioned embrace of Romeo in the friar's cell made one feel individually all the agony of the separation of the lovers. But the climax was, we think, attained in her wonderfully careful and lifelike portrayal of the working of the potion, as she feels her senses leaving her, and yet struggles instinctively to retain her hold on life. The applause that greeted Señorita Palladini was long and loud, and the audience were not satisfied till she had been repeatedly recalled to receive their acclamations.

The subordinate characters in the play were all well sustained, Signora Della Setta as the Nurse, especially in the first scene, coming in for a warm burst of well deserved approbation.

Of course the piece was considerably curtailed, and the true Shakespearian text was not always rigidly adhered to, the last scene, perhaps, being the most open to criticism on this score. But we cannot be hypercritical where we have so much that we can genuinely praise, and we hope that all true lovers of art will follow our example when we say that we intend paying many future visits to the Alegria, and that they will endorse our verdict that Sr. Rossi's Shakespearian revival in Buenos Ayres is a great and unqualified success.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

October 10th.

Yesterday the Minister of Finance placed upon the law recently passed by the Legislative Assembly the official 'cumplase,' accompanying this act on his part by a letter to the President, in which he states that on first presenting the law in question to his Excellency, he had asked that it might be vetoed, as he considered it not only insufficient for the acquisition of necessary resources, but ruinous for the public Treasury. But as the veto proposed by the Minister of Finance did not meet with the approval of the President or the other Ministers, Mr. Stewart agrees to the sanction of the law, but wishes to state the reasons for his opposition to that measure. According to a note which the Minister of Finance has forwarded to the President, the loan of four millions and a-half will only give nett $3,230 paper, and this in eight monthly instalments, or rather an equivalent of $70 paper for every $100 gold! Of course these are very heavy conditions, but better a thousand times than an emission of six millions of inconvertible paper money, which would soon have depreciated 50 per cent. in value, besides ruining for ever the credit of the country, by showing that no vestige of morality existed either in the Government or Legislature, after so gross a violation of the laws of 4th May and 17th July. Mr. Stewart goes on to say that the three monthly instalments, amounting to $1,200,000, to be paid cash down, will only produce to the Government for their September liabilities the sum of $198,000, in consequence of the advances against said loan, by which the Government has been existing since June last. The Minister further complains strongly of that part of the law which increases by two per cent. the export duties, and says that he would far sooner see the legislators take an opportunity of diminishing these imposts, rather than of increasing them, and he concludes his note by telling the President that, although all his combinations for the issue of paper money have been thrown out by the Chambers, the future at no distant period will show that it will not be an emission guaranteed by revenues which the Republic will have, but a simple issue of paper money without basis or security of any kind. In this conclusion, perhaps, Mr. Stewart is nearer the truth than in any other of his arguments in favor of his pet projects, for if we consider the nett sum of which the Government will have the disposal, from the funds provided by the law of 4th October, it is clear that it will only help them along up to about the end of the year, and then, if the civil war be still going on, there will be no remedy but paper money; and as all the available guarantees of an emission will have been already exhausted for previous financial operations, there will be nothing left but an issue of inconvertible 'greenbacks.' Our chief necessity, therefore, is now peace; with peace the finances of the country can soon be reorganised, while commerce would then quickly increase, and prosperity once more smile on this unfortunate Republic; whereas a continuation of this disgraceful civil war must bring a national bankruptcy for the country, and overwhelming ruin to all commercial interests.

The Junta Economica Administrativa has at length roused itself once more from its slumbers, and is now again occupied in resolving the Cemetery question, which has been already touched upon by your Montevidean Correspondent. For absolute want of room for burial now, the corpses are being deposited in the unsold niches, which can only contain about 500, or the proximate mortality of the months of October and November.

Our latest news relative to the movements of the White and Red armies give General Enrique Castro in Durazno, afraid or unable to stir with two or three battalions; Coronado and Borges are wandering about in the north of the Republic, taking good care to keep near Paysandu and Salto, without daring to attack Aparicio, who is close by. Burgueno is about Rocha and Maldonado, while General Muniz is near the Cerros de Minas, with the greater part of his division.

In consequence of the sad accident in the Cibils Theatre, mentioned in my last letter, the Chief of Police has issued an order that no further combats on the stage are to be represented with loaded fire-arms, but that artificial fireworks are to be used. The police has also served a notice on the managers of the various theatres prohibiting the execution by their orchestras of the National Authem, except on certain days set down in a list accompanying the notice, and always by express permission of the police authorities.

Colonel A. B. Du Chateau, formerly commander of the French Expeditionary Legion in Montevideo, has solicited, through Mr. E. T. Ackermann, Oriental Consul in Paris, the honour of being recognised as a citizen of this Republic.

The two Newmayers, so long in prison on the charge of attempting to assassinate General Flores, through the agency of the celebrated mine, came up before the jury for trial yesterday. The decisions of the jury declare these men to be guilty of the charges brought against them, but the judge has not yet pronounced sentence.

It would appear that a great number of the creditors of the Government refuse to receive in payment of the sums due to them the Bonds of the new Home Debt, 3rd series, at 50 per cent., as set forth in the recent law of the Legislature, as it is clear that these documents could not be realized at any such rate when the Deuda Interna 2nd series is at 35 per cent., and consequently those who accepted such bonds in payment of their claims would lose probably some 20 or 25 per cent. A numerously signed protest is being got up on this account, and the Government will probably have to go to the Chambers again for the solution of this emergency.

It is reported that this afternoon the President of this Republic has received a telegram from Don Juan Angel Zaballa, who is in your city, commissioned by the Government here to treat with the White Committee there the terms of an arrangement, stating that peace may be considered as realized, the basis being similar to those of '51. I hear also that some private telegrams have come to hand confirming the foregoing, and trust that we may not be doomed to the same disappointment on this occasion as on the previous ones.

The Herrera and Eastman loan has to-day been refused by the Government, as the Minister of Finance has received more advantageous proposals from other parties. Gold has in consequence risen to 11¼, and has still an upward tendency; but as the loan will ultimately be negotiated with some party or another, it is evident that in a few days we shall have paper again at 10 per cent. or lower.

The following are the names of the persons at present staying at the Oriental and American Hotels:—

The Spanish Minister, the Chilian Minister, the Italian Minister, General E. Mitre, Mr. J. Barber and family, Messrs. W. B. Young, Kemp, J. J. Jarvis, H. Raymond, Haase, Ernest Poussart, Dymoke, C. Gripper, J. Maxwell, A. Baillie, B. Manton, J. Iforde, A. Woodgate, E. Edling, D. Gravvell, Rathbone, &c.

OTHELLO.

PARIS LETTER.

September 2.

M. Thiers is at last 'permanent President of a provisional republic.' The Assembly has given, as it claimed the right, a chair for France to sit upon, baptising itself at the same time a constituent body, as the consequence of its sovereignty. Events have marched so rapidly the last few days as to recall a dialogue between Cineas and Pyrrhus, where the flight from conquest to conquest was so rapid as to leave no time for repose. Yesterday on the brink of civil war, with the prospect of the Prussians laying Paris in ashes in a few hours—to-day peace and confidence, and France happy as a bridegroom. The vote of 480—the two-thirds of the Assembly—has after all nothing cleared, nothing established. It consolidates Thiers, but does not fortify him; what will the majority make of him, and he of the majority? Ministerial responsibility will serve as bufler between the Assembly and the President, and save the latter from much irritation. But hostilities are deferred to a more convenient season.

How 'bizarre' was the voting on the question of the republic being formally, but temporarily accepted. The pure republicans voted against their saint, whom the royalists deified! The monarchists reasoned, we accept for the moment the republic that establishes our constituent powers, but when the time comes—when we have found our king, we shall propose his election. It is not to be understood that the majority which has elected Thiers would hold together if Henry V., the Count de Paris, or Napoleon IV. were introduced as candidate rulers. Then would come the tug of war.

In the majority voted 183 noblemen and one abbé. There were 110 representatives abstained. Among the incidents of the two days discussion was the calm and silent attitude of Thiers in presence of the fierce attacks made upon them, and by friends of 40 years standing, which may account for their virulency. M. Thiers is a man of hasty temperament, testy and pugnacious. His resignation is the more remarkable, and a good omen at once. The character of the discussions was very afflicting, and unworthy of a great nation. Deputies gesticulated, turned up the cuffs of their coats, shook their fists at each other. Of real oratory there was truly none. Gambetta was not even a good second. Picard was witty and biting—he aimed at an impossibility, to unite monarchists and republicans—whom it seems that God has put asunder. When the voting took place on the entire bill 'that it do now pass'—the minority dwindled to '93.' Men of a superstitious turn of mind became grave at the coincidence of a figure with something like one of the most fatal dates in French history. It was as unlucky as a dinner party of 13, getting married on a Friday, or going to sea on that day. Banquo's ghost turns up very frequently of late.

M. Testelin is representative for Lille; an occulist by profession, was exiled by the empire, but became one of Gambetta's first fiddles when Napoleon was banished in turn. He interrupted one of the speakers by accusing his party— the royalist—of having 'licked the boots of the Imperial government.' A rejoinder charged the republicans with having polished the said boots. Confusion and consternation, a moment resembling that where the timid shriek and the brave stand still, or where 'fire' is shouted out. M. Langlois, who seems to represent the noble art of self-defence, endeavoured to get at half a dozen of the Philistines. The Princess Metternich fainted, the ladies agitated their fans like a troubled sea to keep off hysterics and the rioters. Lord Lyons stood up, glanced at M. Thiers, and stood just so; the Secretary of the American Legation buttoned his coat, expecting hard weather; the new Prussian minister looked at his watch to calculate the time required to summon a corporal's guard of spiked helmets to deliver him; the Chinese ambassadors wagged their heads, as if the scene was naturally to be expected from outer barbarians. Ultimately the President, who had executed that terrible duty of putting on his hat, took it off, announced that M. Testelin did not intend to insult the majesty of the Assembly, it was only his playful manner, and like a benevolent father, the erring son was forgiven, and the 'call to order' cancelled. The latter is a serious punishment. If a member incurs it a second time his grog—that is his honorarium of 25fr. a day is stopped; and if a third time admonished, he is expelled.

Gambetta was no longer the pale, dying, young man, on the road to losing his voice, as in the days of the empire. The Spanish climate has made him a beautiful 'brun;' his shoulders are herculean, his voice stentorian. At the rate he is falling into flesh, he must do Banting before entering on a second dictatorship, which his enemies accuse him of preparing, and that his friends do not altogether deny. His speech on the present occasion was the 'first great one' he made since he relinquished the task of fighting Moltke. It was disjointed, metaphysical, and in favour of a dissolution and a 'plébiscite.' Edgard Quinet, a man of eminent talent, was dressed all in white, which matched his grey hairs. The only way to restore 'calm' to the country was by plunging it into a general election, according to him.

Had the Assembly voted before the 18th March the republic, such as it has now done, the Commune would never have existed. The Assembly reserves to itself the right of its dissolution, and unites its existence to that of M. Thier's Siamese-twin fashion. If it forgets to dissolve—cannot understand its epoch—the French know how to invade an Assembly, and Napoleon III. created a dissolution by seizing the Deputies and locking them up in casemates. In going in for the dissolution of the Assembly ticket, and a 'plébiscite,' Gambetta and his friends are playing with a double edged sword. The country is weary of elections—pants for rest, and believes the republic under Thiers has now what it yet never had—a favorable chance. More, Gambetta ought not to forget the story of Zambullo. The latter loved a beautiful young lady, and a few days before their marriage, he surprised his bride-elect sleeping. In her dream she begged with a sigh for 'Ambroise' to still embrace her, and then leave her tranquil. On withdrawing, Zambullo took his decision to give up his beautiful 'amoureuse,' and meeting Ambroise on the threshold begged him not to enter "as your mistress begs to be undisturbed." France is an uncertain lady, and Ambroise may be living at Chiselhurst.

In the course of the day the Court Martial at Versailles will deliver judgment on the seventeen accused. Despite the tropical heat—ladies especially—have flocked in greater numbers these last few days than heretofore, to be present at something like 'the death.' Each new day opened with the production of original evidence, which either drew an unfortunate prisoner a little "out of the depths," or clinched a nail in his coffin. The barristers, with one or two exceptions, made the defence of their clients a pedestal to perch themselves, to horn-blow their individual politics, for the coming elections, varying the scene of fighting with the Public Prosecutor, or indulging in passages of arms between themselves, Lachaud, the celebrated criminal lawyer, proclaimed, the virtues of the Bonapartist dynasty! It is the old game—

"And wretches hang, that jurymen may dine."

The Judge advocate in his second reply to evidence was less ferocious in his demand for the stern application of the law. Then prisoners having the right to reply, the President of the Court begged they would be brief, as there was nothing new to add to the history of the 18th March, and that of the Commune. The Court will have to decide upon 250 issues, and have been occupied, it is reported, during the night resolving them. The political situation having calmed down, will tell on the findings of the Court. It is believed that not more than eight of the accused will be sentenced to death without attenuating circumstances. Collectively all are responsible, but all have not been alike associated in the mad acts of the Commune, or as a Frenchman put it the other day—some are more culpable than others, but none less. The female prisoners will be tried next week—the head 'petroleuse' was arrested on Thursday evening, as she was performing on the slack rope, in a public garden before a 'delighted audience.' Petitions are being signed praying the government to hasten the trial of the 35,000 prisoners now under preventive arrest, so as to restore the innocent to their starving families. It is calculated that before five weeks two-thirds of the prisoners will be at liberty. The delay is not foreign to the embodiment of the new police force in Paris, the members of which still do their beats in couples, sometimes during the day single, but ever in sight of each other. The force no longer carries revolvers in their belt, but I am certain in their coat-pockets. The cavalry still does patrol duty, the mounted police not being completely organized.

The aspect of Paris changes like a Chameleon. Pending the discussion, and long before, on the elevation of M. Thiers to the Presidency, the city was silent, sad, sullen and nervous. His rejection would certainly have been followed by a civil war, and as a consequence, the occupation by the Prussians of the capital as a 'material guarantee' for their milliards. Many people had laid in provisions in advance, prepared to risk results, than undertake another sickening flight. Now these symptoms have disappeared, we are all gay again, desirous to work, and enjoy the fruits of labor. The country has a thirst for repose.

Paul de Kock has died at the ripe age of 78. That little, old, wizen figure, leaning on the arm of his daughter, hobbling on a stick beside his son Henri, or sitting in the sun, in an arm chair on the boulevard, was a well known figure to Paris.

The criminal statistics of France for 1869 have been published. They are manifestly imperfect. Indeed, a journal remarks also "incomplete because Napoleon and his ministers are omitted."

The sale of Dumas 'pére's' curiosities was miserable. Many amateurs were present, but the purchases were Jews, and Gentiles, Israelites by profession. A presentation dagger from Garibaldi was knocked down for 45 frs. The blade was examined to see if it had bloodstains—say of Cardinals and tyrants.

The abbé Richard, in the Academy of Sciences, has presented some flint surgical instruments, found in the tomb of Joshua.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Cordillera, of the Pacific and West Coast line of mail steamers, is expected at Montevideo to-morrow from Valparaiso. Letters for Brazil and Europe by this packet will be received up to 3 o'clock p.m. this day at the Port Captain's office.

Our Packet Edition for the Oneida will appear on Saturday at noon.

It appears by the latest accounts that the cholera has not appeared in Antwerp as reported. In the beginning of August two cases of cholerine were registered, but since then the city has enjoyed its usual health.

Our Special Correspondent in Rosario sends us the following gossip from that place:—

"The Governor of Santa Fé, it appears, cannot get any competent person to take the reins of Government during his absence in Cordoba.

"There is a report of cases of yellow fever in Corrientes, but I place little confidence in it. Under the circumstances any simple case of fever will be exaggerated into the dreaded Yellow Jack.

"Mr. S.A. Wheelright gave a ball to Mr. and Mrs. Zimmermann on Thursday night. It was very fashionably attended. A private band discoursed eloquent music, to which the votaries of the 'poetry of motion' heartily responded. The rooms were profusely decorated with flags, and a bust of President Sarmiento, an indigenous production, occupied the place of honor. It was remarked that the artist had not improved the President's natural good looks!

"The Colony of Bernstadt has sent an invitation to the President, if we give credit to the Opinion Nacional. I think he had better accept it. I am affraid he will meet with more hospitality amongst foreigners than amongst his own countrymen.

We are glad to notice in the columns of our morning colleagues official contradictions of the report that yellow fever had appeared in Corrientes.

The frontier question, to which we refer in our leading columns, is assuming an importance that must soon awaken the authorities to the necessity of a vigorous reform. North and South, East and West, the same story of savage raids from the Desert, and the impotence of the garrisons to prevent them, comes to the Government Houses, yet the troops are left without horses or arms, a useless flint musket for every 10 men being the not uncommon allowance of firearms many of the regiments have to put up with. There is something rotten in the state of the War Office, for it cannot be denied that on that Department must the onus of the present terrible state of the frontiers be thrown.

It is proposed to erect a penitentiary at Montevideo with part of the Herrera Eastman Loan.

President Sarmiento arrived safely at Rosario on Monday morning, and was very well received, though some of the opposition papers in this city assert the contrary.

The Sociedad Rural in their recent petition to Government on the frontier question, make the alarming statement that 1000 Chilian Indians are coming to assist the savages of our Pampas in a contemplated raid on our frontiers.

The Live Cattle Export Bill passed the Senate on Tuesday night, and is now now law. Seven years is outside limit a concession can be granted for, and in case no live stock be exported within two years after its signature the privilege lapses; at least three thousand head of cattle must be exported in the first two years, and five thousand annually afterwards.

To-day is a holiday at the University being the anniversary of the founding of that seat of learning.

A great rise of the river Uruguay has been predicted to take place this month by a scientific clergyman living on its banks. The river is stated to be rising at present.

On her last trip up the river one of the crew of the steamer Concordia fell sick when the vessel was a few hours out. At 5 o'clock p.m. the man fels the first symptoms of illness and went to his hammock, at 9 o'clock he was dead. The cause of death is not stated, but the Port Captain at Fray Bentos refused to allow the corpse to be landed.

At Mercedes, B. O., the small-pox is increasing in the most alarming manner. The Police have issued orders that all the houses in the town must be whitewashed within 20 days. A Sanitary Commission has been named to act in concert with the Police.

The newly named official, the "Inspector de Limpieza Publica" is to enjoy a monthly stipend of £50. We trust he will earn it; he will have ample opportunity of doing so.

The reported renewal of the attempt to bring about peace in the Banda Oriental has as yet given no visible results. It is known that the telegraph has been busy for some days with messages to the Montevidean Cabinet from those treating with influential Blancos here. The frequent failure of previous efforts at mediation make the community sceptical as to the chance of success the present may have, and no one will believe in peace till it is signed—and even then its permanence will be doubted.

The theatre at Cordoba has been redecorated and painted for the Exhibition fetes. Several professional musicians have gone up from this city and Rosario to swell the orchestra of the Zarzuela company.

Yesterday was the 279th anniversary of the discovery of this Continent by Christopher Columbus.

The Capital, of Rosario, states that an apothecary of that town, Don Eduardo Day, has been arrested on a charge of illicitly selling a quantity of arsenic, the result being the death through poisoning of a Mr. Yeusen, a clerk in the house of Barker & Co. A quack doctor named Zarate has also been arrested for 'practising' on several poor creatures who had the misfortune to believe him a licensed doctor.

Dr. Adolfo Rodriguez, Oriental Special Envoy to Paraguay, has arrived in town. It is believed that Baron Cotegipe, Dr. Quintana, and Dr. Rodriguez will leave for Asuncion in a day or two, probably on Sunday.

We received yesterday the draft of the plan for cleaning the city, which our friend, Dn. Adolfo Bullrich, the well-known auctioneer, has presented to the Municipality. The scheme seems to us a practical one, and worthy of the favourable consideration of the authorities. It is high time that some one of the papers now before the Municipal Board were adopted, as summer is at hand. We intend to refer at greater length to-morrow to Mr. Bullrich's scheme.

President Sarmiento stopped at the Hotel Argentino in Rosaria, though apartments had been prepared for him at the 'Gefetura.'

All the government employés in Santa Fe will be allowed a week's holiday to visit the Cordoba Exhibition; their vacation commences to-morrow.

The rocket business is one of the most flourishing and best paying in these countries. In no country is so much powder burnt in a peaceful way. Everything is announced everywhere by the din and stench made by powder, from the arrival of the Mala to the great May fetes. The result of this mania for fireworks has been to increase the number of parties in the trade. In almost every street, in the back patios of second and third rate houses, firework making is now carried on without any precaution being taken to prevent the neighbours from being blown into the middle of next week without a moment's notice. Half a dozen fires occurred lately in these establishments, and it is high time for the police to look after them.

Six hundred people are said to have left here for Cordoba on Tuesday, and as many more are expected to take their departure to-day. Private telegrams from Cordoba announce that the crowd of tourists from here and the provinces is rapidly arriving there.

Count Funkul has obtained a concession from the Paraguayan Government of 20 leagues of prime land on the Alto Paraná, between Pirapo and Yeguerungua: the land is very rich in cedors and yerba.

Congress will be closed to-day by Vice-President Alsini. Congressmen are completely 'done up' with the hard work of the session, and return to the bosom of their families with the conviction that they have talked more and done less than during any session on record.

Mr. Lloyd, C.E., has laid proposals before the Provincial Government for the construction of the proposed line of railway from this city to Rosario: he offers to take payment in Provincial Bonds.

Romeo and Juliet was performed at the Alegria Theatre on Tuesday evening. Sr. Rossi's interpretation of the character of Romeo is a finished conception in every way, though it clashes in some important points with the version of the greatest actors on the English stage. We are not certain, however, that Sr. Rossi's reading of the character could be improved on, as it is at all points true to the conception of the great author, The acting of Signorina Palladini as Juliet is scarcely open to criticism, at least we shall not attempt it, but candidly admit that we have never seen the part better, if as well, acted by any actress the stage at present boasts of. The house on Tuesday night seemed of pretty much the same opinion, for it repeatedly 'rose at her,' to use Edmund Keau's words, with uncontrollable shouts of frantic applause. In the scene where she swallows the sleeping potion given her by the friar, half doubting if it is not deadly poison, yet driven on by the no less dreaded alternative of a marriage hateful to her, saying—

"I fear it is, and yet methinks it should not,
For he hath still been tried a holy man.
How it, when I am laid into the tomb,
I wake before the time that Romeo
Come to redeem me? there's a fearful point.
Shall I not then be stifled in the vault,
To whose foul mouth no healthful air breathes in,
And there die strangled ere my Romeo comes?"

few amongst her audience would be hardy enough to say that, in voice, expression, or gesture anything was wanting, or that it was possible to act the part better. The talented actress was repeatedly called before the curtain during the evening, and had with Sr. Rossi to appear three times before the excited and admiring audience when the drop-scene fell.

Mr. Guinnard's book 'Three Years in Patagonia' can now be had in English at the Libreria Europea, in Calle Florida.

We take the following from the Ayrshere Advertizer of August 31.—"We understand that two bursaries have been founded in the University of Glasgow by Mr. Hugh Browne, Darvel, Ayrshire, who has for this purpose conveyed to the Senate the sum of £1000. The foundation is in memory of Mr. Browne's late brother, Dr. Alexander Browne, of Buenos Ayres, and for the benefit of young men born in Ayrshire, or who have been educated for not less than four years at one of the schools of that county, and who are about to enter on their first session at the University. The bursaries (in value nearly £20) will be conferred on the two candidates, qualified as aforesaid, who acquit themselves best at the annual bursary examination in the commencement of the session, and are tenable during the four years of the Arts curriculum. The first competition will take place in November. We understand that Dr. Browne died worth £100,000, which was inherited by the above named Mr. Hugh Browne and two sisters".

National Bonds continue dull. Prices fell ½ both for cash and short dates. Several parties who had advanced money at sight on these securities have called on the borrowers to refund. Brokers state that a fall must take place before any permanent rise can be expected.

Exchange rallied towards the afternoon, and good bills were freely offered at 51½. Banker's paper at 51. Takers are firm in demanding 51½ The business for this mail has been rather limited, especially with regard to Continental exchange. Rate on Antwerp 5.40.

Telegraphic advices from Montevideo announce the death of Mr. Gustave Heber, a leading merchant, allied by marriage to the wealthy Jackson family. Mr. Herber made a large fortune, chiefly in wool transactions.

Some of the new clip has been sold in Montevideo at the high price of 41 reals in barraca.

The Oneida, which leaves on Sunday, takes some gold and a large number of passengers. Letters received at the Consulate till 7 p.m. on Saturday.

Messrs. Bullrich and Co. submitted to-day their project to the Municipality for shutting up all cesspools and closets through the city, furnishing each house with a patent Earth-closet on Moule's system, and removing all the 'basura' between midnight and sunrise, in the manner adopted in Liverpool and other large towns. They propose to bring out 40,000 of these Earth-closets, and charge each house $5 dollars a month, except shops, hotels, &c., for which a tariff will be laid down, from $10 to $25 monthly. They offer to begin operations in a week, and to pay the Municipality 9 per cent. per annum on the value of the municipal carts, horses, &c., in the 'basura' service.

The preparations for the Transandine Expedition are now so far advanced that the departure of Mr. Crawford and the remainder of his staff may be looked for daily. The vanguard is already at Chivilcoy, getting ready horses, &c.

The Telegrafo Maritimo mentions the loss of the French barque Notre Dame du Bon Port, by fire, about 45 leagues from the mouth of the River Plate, coming from London. The fire broke out on the night of September 4th, but the passengers and crew received timely succour from the Emilio Barrabino, Captain Badano, who took them safely to Bahia. It is a coincidence that some two years ago a vessel called the M. Barrabins was burned near the same latitude and 100 passengers lost.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND Co.
101--Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current we now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes alredady mentioned, Sundays an holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to esch depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. p. 8) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds Twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishe can open an account current, according to the rules estabished by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
